

Individuals for Whom There Are Personnel Cards or Post-Council Questionnaires; 1887-1934

The personnel cards in the collection were brief records of the pertinent information on each CIM/OMF missionary. The cards contain spaces for the following information: name, home address, birthplace, date of birth, nationality, date and place of marriage, date accepted, ordination, church affiliation, colleges and Bible schools attended, medical training, degrees, passport number, passport location and validation date, places of service; name, birthplace, date of birth, nationality of children; name, address, phone, nationality of father, mother, and nearest friend, furloughs granted, dates and ports of arrival and departure.

Post-Council questionnaires were filled out by missionary candidates after they had been accepted for work in China by the mission council. The forms in box 6 for United States candidates include spaces for the following information: name, age, date of birth, home address, country of birth, citizenship, vaccinations, dental work needed, whether a will had been made, postal address, denominational preference, whom to notify in case of emergency.

The forms in box 17 for Canadian candidates include spaces for the following information: name, address, application, question paper, medical certificates, referees, doctrinal statement, decision of council, journey to China, support, parents' names and address, pastor's name and address.
